RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1879.

NO. 61.

ROOP COUNTY NOTES.

The Crops—The Fish—The Reservation and Matters in General.

The large cottonwood trees along the river are in full leaf, and one can not help thinking, when passing through the groves, that the reservation is the most attractive spot in Nevada. Grasshoppers are quite plentiful in Winnemucca valley and along the river below Wadsworth, but not numerous enough to do any damage to the crops. Tule Frank has been talking very loud about burning up five or six hundred billions of young grasshoppers on his ranch. But it is hard to tell whether he knows a grasshopper from a cricket.

I have become so accustomed to handling an irrigating hoe in the past month, that it is with considerable effort that I again take up my pen for the purpose of giving you a few items from Roop county. Notwithstanding the fact that the season has so far, been very cold and dry, crops, as a general thing, are looking well. The grain crop will fall short of the average yield, but the hay crop will be much better than it was last year. The stockmen have been roasting for the past three weeks, and it will take them some time yet to complete their spring work. The feed on the ranges is very poor, compared to what it generally is at this time of the year. Still, cattle are gaining very fast, and there will soon be plenty of good beef in this section.

It is very quiet around the lake since the fishermen left, and from the way the TROUT SKIP IN THE CLEAR WATER, one would think that they understood that the law had banished their mortal enemies, at least for a time. But I think there will be a great number of fishermen around the lake this coming winter, that is, if Uncle Sam does not put in a demurrer to their proceedings. While attending the rodeo at the mouth of the river, a few days since, I called at the reservation house and had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Garvey, the new agent. He is a very fine gentleman, and the citizens around the reservation like him very much. I found Mr. Benier, the handsome young farmer, irrigating his garden, and took advantage of the opportunity to study the methods of one who is supposed to be a thorough, practical and scientific farmer. But he has so little water to operate with this year, that he will not have a chance this season to show what he knows about farming. All the water he has for use (four or five inches) is hoisted out of the river by a bucket wheel. Half an acre of potatoes, a small patch of beans and onions, and four acres of wheat include the crop planted by the agency. Besides which, the Indians have a little wheat sown about in different places. But it all looks very thirsty. The grass on the meadows looks well, and farmer Benier will probably cut fifty tons of hay this season. The dwelling houses and other buildings have been whitewashed recently, which gives them a very neat appearance. AARON BERN.

THE NERVOUSNESS OF ORATORS.

As a rule orators manifest a painful anxiety about their speeches. They are uneasy and nervous, as if anticipating failure. This is due to the very sensitive organization which makes them orators.

"Why, how nervous you are!" said a friend on taking Canning's hand just before he rose to speak.

"Am I?" was the Prime Minister's reply. "Then I shall make a good speech."

Daniel Webster, on the other hand, was cool, calm and collected. His nerves were of iron. Everything had been thought out before he rose to speak.

"Mr. Webster," asked a friend, nervously, grasping him by the arm on the morning when he was to reply to Hayne, "Mr. Webster, are you ready?"

The great man, bringing his open right hand vertically down into the palm of his left, quietly said: "I have got four fingers in."

"Four fingers?" was, among sportsmen, the mark for an unusually heavy charge for a gun. Mr. Hayne found out how heavy the load was.

A junior counsel once congratulated Sir Wm. Follett on his perfect composure in the prospect of a great case he was about to try. Sir William merely asked his friend to feel his hand, which was wet from nervous anxiety.

Photography in Banking.

It is stated that the bank of France has for some time past employed a photographic detective, to examine suspicious documents; and more recently has placed an invisible studio in a gallery behind the cashiers. Hidden behind a heavy curtain the camera stands ready for work, and at a signal from the cashier, the operator secures a likeness of any suspected customer. It is also reported that in the principal banking house in Paris several frauds have lately been detected by the camera, which under some circumstances exercises a sharper vision than the human eye. Where an erasure has been made, for example, the camera at once detects it, although the spot may be so perfectly smoothed as not to be apparent to the eye.

For the accommodation of the public, the bath house of Coleman & Fischer is kept open on Sunday until 4 p. m.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A varnish of beeswax dissolved in benzine is recommended for protecting polished iron surfaces, and also for patterns.

The use of electricity as a motive power in mines, in place of compressed air, is now being considered by English engineers. It is said that the cost will be considerably less.

M. Paul Broca, the famous anthropologist, is authority for the statement that the tallest man ever actually measured was a Finlander, nine feet three and seven-tenths inches high, and the shortest man known fell short by decimal of seventeen inches in his stocking feet.

A French physician asserts that he has discovered a specific whose effects can be exactly limited to the time required. This will, he says, enable travelers to sleep comfortably during a journey. He measures his doses by miles, and the tourist can doze himself to sleep for just as many miles as he pleases.

The seven weeks, ending with January 18th, having been marked by a very low temperature in London, the register general made a comparison of the mortality report of that period and of the seven weeks immediately preceding. The result showed that the average weekly number of deaths in the cold period exceeded by 481 the average number in the period of moderate temperature.

A Golden Opportunity.

[Lassen Advocate.]

Under the above heading the Reno Gazette of May 30th has an editorial concerning the Oregon railroad, which it claims should start from the C. P. R. R. at Reno rather than from Winnemucca. We favor the same plan, and predict that the road, to be a success, must surely run through Long Valley, thence through Honey Lake and Willow Creek valleys and so on through Alturas and Goose Lake. This will afford an outlet for, and command the trade of, Big Valley, Hot Springs Valley, Goose Lake, Summer Lake and Chewaucan valleys, which before have been obliged to connect with the C. & O. railroad at Redding, Shasta county. The natural pass from Willow Creek Valley, south into Honey Lake Valley, where it strikes the latter at the flume of Capt. Merrill, is calculated to be an important place, and we have every reason to believe that the new town of Belfast which is being started there, will progress with great rapidity, and prove an important ally to Reno, by serving as the centre to collect the freight which would be sure to pass over the road in both directions.

How to Feed Children.

A venerable lady now living in New York, who has had ten children, all born and reared in cities, and raised nine of them, all living at the present moment, having reached the adult age, never allowed any of them as children to eat anything between meals except dry bread, though she was wealthy and could just as easily have pampered every whim. Her constant reply was, when any of them demurred, "My dear, you are not hungry if you cannot eat bread." Now, it is very certain that her children did not inherit remarkably robust constitutions; and under the ordinary pampering of mothers, it is fair to suppose that many of them would have died or become puny men and women. When a child knows by experience that he can have nothing but bread between meals, he will not ask for it unless he really needs it, and then he will not take enough to destroy his keener appetite for the good things at the table; while if he is allowed cakes and pastry, as so many children are, he will seldom come to his meals with a fine relish for food, and taking it without that relish, it fails to be rapidly assimilated, if indeed it does not enfeeble or derange the digestive function.

Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum. DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM works wonders. In all cases of Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, or Retention of Urine, these troubles are entirely cured by the Nephreticum. Female Weakness, Gravel, Diabetes, pain in the back and loin are cured when all other medicines have failed. See what the Druggists of Portland and San Francisco say about Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum and English Dandelion Pills: "We have sold a large amount of Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum, and in all cases they are highly spoken of and give entire satisfaction."

Scott & Kleser have changed the name of their building from the "International" to the "Palace."

D. W. McFarland has had "The Arcade" painted in elegant gilt lettering on the glass in the transom above the main entrance of his new hotel.

W. R. Chamberlain has received a sign with the word "Reno," in beautiful gilt letters, painted on it, which he will put up on the C. P. side of the Depot hotel.

Henry Ruhe has at last got moved into his new quarters on Commercial Row. His market is neat and convenient, and his meats are fat and juicy, things his customers will not find fault with.

Preparing for the Trade.

We take pleasure in informing the public that we have formed a co-partnership with E. Stenge, of San Francisco, for the purpose of carrying on a first-class Merchant Tailoring Establishment in Reno. We are in king our place larger, and will carry the largest and finest stock of French and English place goods ever brought to the State of Nevada. We will be ready for business in two days. Call and examine our stock and convince yourself.

The Grasshopper Feeds at Work.

P. J. Kelly says the grasshoppers are very thick on his ranch below town, and are destroying his grass and alfalfa at a rapid rate. They are nearly full grown and devour everything green with the greatest voracity. They have eaten everything in spots, so as to leave the ground as bare as a floor.

A FINE JOB OFFICE.

Anything Printed Here That Can be Printed Anywhere.

This office is supplied with a full and fine stock of stationery, consisting of blanks for letter and bill heads, envelopes, wedding and invitation cards, funeral notices, posters, circulars, ball programmes, etc. It is also happy in the possession of as fine a job press and as skilful a printer as there is in any country. In order to give an idea of the vast country which is destined in the near future to draw her supplies from Reno and do her trading here, a map was made from which an electrotype given below was ordered:

Reno occupies the center, and two circles, one at a hundred miles and the other one two hundred miles distance, show at a glance the whole field. The great range on the west fences a large district off from the cities of California, and any one who receives a letter with the little map in one corner would see at once that all that country must drain into Reno. The country as far north as Oregon and as far east as Oregona, and including Bodie and all the southern country, are very plainly shown. The map can be run as a brown or gold background, either with light or dark ground, and the card printed over it.

Old Gigsamps on Susan B.

"I've heard a good deal o' talk," said old Mr. Gigsamps, laying down his newspaper and thoughtfully wiping his gold spectacles, "about Susan B. Anthony's age, an' I've allus believed most of it, but this is comin' it just a little too strong for a man that cum to the coast in forty-nine to tie to. I've allus placed her along 'ith J. Ceaser, old Pompey and that ar' Egyptian hussy—what's her name—oh, Cleopatra, but when she goes around tellin' about alidin' down a cellar door with old Moses, and what a sweet, handsome baby Saul wuz, an' how smart Solomon was when he was a boy, I'm blest if I'll believe it." And the old gentleman blew his nose on his red handkerchief with great emphasis.

Pilfering Boys.

Jamison & Son, at the post office, are troubled by petty pilferers, who steal anything they can lay their hands on when the backs of the proprietors are turned. They have lost a number of articles lately, such as pocket knives, etc. There is reason to believe that boys are responsible for most of the thievery, as the articles stolen are just such as would be most likely to strike a boy's eye, and many of them have been missed just after a crowd of them had been hanging around the store. Some of these boys are in a fair way to break into the penitentiary before they are twenty-one.

Uncle Daa! To-night.

The appearance of "A Messenger from Jarvis Section" at Kimball's Hall this evening will be welcomed with pleasure by all who enjoy the typical American drama when admirably enacted. Wherever Mr. Macaulay has appeared in the character of "Uncle Daa!" he has been greeted by full and enthusiastic houses, and the critics of the press have lauded him with no scant measure of praise. The good people of Reno have not been niggardly in patronizing the drama heretofore, and when they have an opportunity, like the present, of seeing a good play well acted they should not miss it.

Bad News from Sutor.

A Renovite, lately returned from Sutor, gives a gloomy account of the future prospects of that place. At one time the tunnel company employed over a thousand men, but the number has been steadily reduced by drafts until scarcely three hundred are at work now. The town went up like a rocket, and has come down like a stick. People are leaving there almost as fast as they rushed in. Town lots, which rose enormously in value during the excitement, have tumbled down almost as rapidly as they went up.

A Rainy Day Without Much Rain.

It has been cloudy all day, and it looked as if we were going to have a good, downright shower, but the signs failed. Although it has drizzled all the morning, and the rain seemed ready to pour down a hundred times, the threatened deluge did not come. Everybody was anxious for a shower, and were disappointed when it did not fall. However, enough rain fell to lay the dust, which was becoming abominable, and cool off the heated atmosphere.

Another Drummer Caught.

Louis Liebes was arrested by constable Avery last night, for selling goods by sample, contrary to the "drummer act." He said he had urgent business east, and asked that his case be postponed until July 7th. The case was put off until that time, and he was released on his giving bonds in the sum of $100 for his appearance.

BLUE TIMES IN SIERRA VALLEY.

The Hoppers Making Hay while the Sun Shines.

H. A. Smith, from Summit, Plumas county, says the insect which was to kill the grasshoppers in Sierra valley has not appeared. He thinks they are not being killed to any great extent by anything. The farmers around Sierraville say they are thicker at the south end of the valley than in his neighborhood, and those living near him say it is impossible for them to be thicker anywhere than they are at the north end. Mr. Smith says there will not be five thousand pounds of grain raised in all that country, and less than a third of the usual crop of hay. A good many of the ranchers have turned their cattle in on their fields, and what they get will be stolen from the hoppers. In Long Valley the swarms are smaller, but the valley is so narrow that the destruction will be nearly as great.

The Celebration Scheme Getting Along Finely.

The committee of arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration have succeeded in getting subscriptions to the fund to the amount of $650. Many of our citizens have responded liberally, but others have shown a very unworthy spirit, and have not donated as freely or liberally as they should have done. From a careful calculation, it appears that between $900 and $1000 is necessary to defray the expenses of a celebration in proper style. This amount the committee think they can raise by a little hard work and persuasion. The committee should have reported to-night, but have deferred it until Saturday, owing to the theatre, the society hall, and other things, which prevent a full meeting. Invitations will be sent out to Wadsworth, Truckee and other towns, for the people of those places to come and participate in the celebration. A cordial welcome will be extended to our neighbors, and nothing will be left undone to make the occasion as pleasant and impressive as possible. Our fire ladders are anxious to have the Truckee boys bring their fire engine down, and test the throwing qualities of the two together.

How to Deadhead It Into a Show.

The "masquer" correspondent of the Sutor Independent, got "mashed" in Virginia the other night. He went to Piper's Opera house in his character of commissioner for the Independent, and wanted to go in on "shape." Being refused, he dug up his tomahawk, performed a Zulu war dance, and offered to whip the entire opera house force, including old Piper and the supes. About this time he stumbled against a supe's fist, and badly disfigured both of his eyes. A rough and tumble fight ensued, in which the chronicler of servant girl flirtations didn't win any great amount of laurels. The credit of the Independent has been strained since to procure ammonia and beefsteak for the mashed masquer.

A First-Class Hotel.

The Arcade is nearly ready for opening. The building is finished, inside and out, and all that remains to be done is putting up the furniture and furnishing the rooms for guests. The furniture has all been bought in San Francisco. Some of it arrived to-day, and the remainder will be along in a day or two. When completely furnished, and thrown open to the public, the Arcade will compare favorably with any hotel in the state. The culinary department will be even superior to its old time excellence.

The Agricultural Society Ball.

The Agricultural Society ball comes off to-morrow evening at the pavilion. Professor Varney's magnificent band of five instruments will furnish the music. Our people have danced before to the enlivening strains of Varney's music, and know how dance provoking they are. The proceeds of the ball will be devoted to the pavilion fund, and everybody ought to go, enjoy themselves, get their money's worth, and give the society a lift.

Recovering Slowly.

The two surviving children of Isaac Johnson are slowly gaining strength. His girl had a swollen neck which was lanced by the doctor, and as soon as the poison escaped she began to improve. The two can walk about now, but were so reduced that they were a long time in getting any strength. Johnson himself has not seen a well day for five years. There must be something wrong in the drainage or ventilation of his house.

The Poor Little Birds.

The bird man was on the streets again yesterday with his trained parrots. He prefers street exhibitions to going into a hall, although it is much less profitable, on account of the health of his birds. He says the close air makes them sick and many die. He has lost as many as twenty in that way. It takes years to educate them to do their parts.

A Once Thriving but Deserted Town. Galena was once a thriving town. It was situated about three miles west of Washoe City. And now there is not enough of it left for a New Zealander to sit on.

Out of Danger.

From conductor Follett it is learned that John Rapp is rapidly recovering, and is in fact out of danger. He is able to sit up to-day, and is quite free from pain.

Circular Letter.

Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Carson, May 29, 1879.

To the School Officers and Teachers of Nevada:

You are hereby notified that the Board of Education, at its meeting to-day, prescribed the Pacific Coast Speller for use in the Public Schools of this State, on and after Sept. 1, 1879. The publishers, A. L. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco, have entered into an agreement to furnish Pupils with said Speller at ten cents per copy during a period of six months from the first day of September; after this, at the introductory price, twenty-five cents per copy.

The Board of Education, at its second regular semi-annual meeting on the third Monday of next October, propose to discuss the merits of all the text books now in use, with reference to making any change therein that they may deem essential to the welfare and improvement of the schools.

It is proposed, especially, to substitute some better book for the "Arithmetic in use, at present; and it will be a matter for consideration, also, whether a better reader can not be found with which to replace Sheldon's.

It is the earnest desire of the Board of Education that the Teachers, School Officers, and all others throughout the State who are interested in the cause of education, express their views in this matter, whereby the most practical results may be reached. Communications of the nature intimated, containing suggestions of experienced and thoughtful educators, will be heartily received and carefully considered.

The Way to Trade.

A general stock of new goods is being added by J. K. Everett to his already large stock. People all over the western part of Nevada, and in Long Valley, Honey Lake and Sierra Valleys are becoming alive to the fact that Reno is one of the very best places on the coast to buy goods. There are immense stocks of goods in every line and the merchants would much rather do a large business on small profits than a small one the other way. Mr. Everett is a young man, very wide awake, very pleasant to do business with, very popular and very ambitious. Give him a call.

Talk is Cheap.

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishings goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast when we say that we defy competition in prices in anything in our line. Besides this we have only one price. We have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at our establishment. Our stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this state. Everything we have is new. No old, musty, and out-of-date goods can be found on our shelves. We receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of our prices, and examine our stock before going into those humbugging, cheap John shops, in which they draw into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Any body with common sense must know that they lie. No store-keeper sells goods for the fun of the thing. We make a profession of everything we sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish notices on the best articles in the city, deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of our specialties. Remember the place, the White House, No. 19 Commercial Row.

The display of Water Colors, fine Oil Paintings, Steel Engravings, Panels, etc., is very large and elegant. Artists' materials and every style of Frames to fill the largest order.

Insurance.

We desire to say to our insurance patrons and owners of property generally that we have secured the services of Mr. T. B. Camp, a professional insurance man who has had several years practical experience in the business, and is thoroughly posted in all its details. He will give his entire time and attention to insurance, thus securing care and skill in the writing of policies, so as to properly cover the risks, which is of great importance, as many sufferers by the late fire may recall, as it might have saved them hundreds of dollars in the adjustment of losses. We shall issue policies and adjust losses at our office. D. A. BENDER & Co.,
